MANY CHILDREN FORM PROCESSION

Imposing Spectacle Presented by Sunday School Pupils of Alexandria

TWO THOUSAND OUT.

Beautiful Early Fall Day Brings the Mass of the People of the City Upon the Main Streets.

Over two thousand Sunday School scholars with their teachers and members bands yesterday afternoon formed one of the most imposing parades ever witnessed in Alexandria. The weather was ideal, and it being Sunday, most of the population of the city turned out to witness the spectacle. The line was formed on South Fairfax street, and shortly before four o'clock it began to move up that thoroughfare accompanied by a number of automobiles and other vehicles filled with little ones and their elders. The procession moved up Fairfax street to Cameron where it turned west and upon reaching Washington street halted, where the colors worn by the scholars of the respective schools formed the hues of the rainbow. The interesting exercises which had been planned subsequently followed.

The intersection and the streets toward every point of the compass were densley packed. There was nothing savoring of disorder, although so many persons were coralled at the spot, and the squad of police had no difficulty in handling the great crowd.

Rev. E. K. Harding, pastor of Mount Vernon Place M. E. Church, Washington, delivered an address in which he declared that every life thot comes into this world has a divine plan, and suggested that little ones present may prove to be great men of the future. He said it is our duty to consecrate our lives to the service of God and he urged all to follow the cross of Christ.

Benediction was pronounced by Rev. Dr. W. F. Watson, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Hymns sung at the exercises were "Onward, Christian Soldiers," "The Son of God Goes Forth to War," "When The Roll is Called Up Yonder," "I Love Him," "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus." "Come All Ye Faithful," and "My Country, 'tis of Thee."

All the marchers carried banners and the little girls, dressed in white, were the most attractive. They wore red crosses and the participants marched to music played by the American Indian Guard Band and the Alexandria Musical Association. Each Sunday school delegation wore varied colored sashes, and as they grouped at the stand at Christ Church they presented a striking appearance.

The scholars sang as they marched "Onward, Christian Soldiers," and "The Sons of God Goes Forth to War." In point of numbers the First Baptist Church had the largest number in line. There being 375.

Superintendents marching in the parade were: First Baptist—James R. Mansfield, superintendent; S. W. Pitts, acting superintendent; M. E. Church South, J. Frank Myers. Second Presbyterian, F. L. Slaymaker; Christ P. E., Edward S. Leadbeater; Methodist Protestant, John H. Trimyer; Second Baptist, George K. Bender; Grace P. E., A. M. Simpson; Trinity M. E., Charles Pierpont; St. Paul's P. E., Urban S. Lambert; Payne Street Mission, C. W. O'Meara; Village Chapel, George R. Smith; Immanuel Chapel, Statius Meade; Good Shepherd, J. F. Osborne.

Officers of the Sunday School Association are: J. F. Myers, persident; J. H. Bitzer, vice president; James R. Mansfield, past president; John W. Herndon, secretary and treasurer.

Chairman of committees in charge follow: J. F. Myers, executive; J. H. Trimyer, finance; F. L. Slaymaker, parade; N. S. Greenaway, music; J. R. Mansfield, publicity; J. W. Herndon, decoration; J. T. Preston, director of music.

Many years had elapsed since a general turnout of Sunday school scholars took place in Alexandria. Separate schools have from time to time appeared on the streets on Easter and other occasions, but practically all Protestant schools were out yesterday.

The parade was unique. Pageants have often been seen in our city, but they have generally been held on week days, when miscellaneous multitudes swelled by thousands from other cities have appeared on our streets. The spirit o fthe secular has, of course, characterized such occasions. Yesterday it was the spiritual and the singing of hymns took the place of other airs.

HORRIBLE DEATH OF THREE.

Mother And Two Children Dead, Third Child in Critical Condition.

Hartford, Conn., Oct. 12.—Walter Mitchell, Jr., aged nine years, Clement Mitchell, aged five years, children of Walter Mitchell, a farmer of Farmington, Conn., and his wife, Mrs. Julia Mitchell, are dead, and another child, Edward, aged seven years, is in a critical condition at the Hartford Hospital, as a result of horrible burns, caused when young Walter's clothing caught fire, while he was starting a fire in the kitchen range with kerosene oil.

The mother and two dead boys were trying to smother the flames when their own clothing ignited. Two younger boys, Joseph and John, grabbed their seven month's old baby sister, when, the kitchen burst into flames, and ran into the yard to safety.

Their cries and screams were heard by the husband and father, who was working in a field some distance away, and he came running toward the house to be met by the terrible sight of one of his sons. The latter was running frantically around the back yard with his whole body enveloped in flames. He later found his wife and two other sons on the kitchen floor with every stitch of clothing burned from their bodies, which were blackened almost beyond recognition.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Reports from Cettinje say the Montenegrins defeated the Austrians in a big battle, inflicting losses of over 1,500 men.

Cholera is spreading throughout Austria-Hungary, the new cases averaging 40 daily.

There are 600,000 Belgian refugees in Holland, and 1,000,000 in France.

The annual meeting of the Alexandria German Club will be held at the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday evening when officers will be elected for the year and arrangements made for a series of dances this winter.

A message from Venice states that the Anglo-French fleet sank an Austrian torpedo boat off Gravosc and another off Rosne escorting a steamship laden with munitions for Spaluto. The greater part of the crews in each case were saved.

Accidentally falling overboard from the schooner John Dixon, on which he was employed, Eldridge Norris, 18 years old, living in St. Mary's county, Md., was drowned yesterday morning in the Potomac near River View.

Up until a late hour last night the body had not been recovered. Capt. John J. Gibson, was in charge of the schooner.

The newspapers of Athens say it is announced from an authoriative source that the Turks are showing much energy in Syria, Palestine, and north Arabia, where they are concentrating troops at a number of points, and fortifying important places on the coast and on routes to the interior. Turkey is making preparations of a warlike character. The Young Turks are said to be largely under the influence of the Germans.

The appalling tragedy now waging in Europe may have been the last blow to the heart of aged King Charles of Roumania," says the Rome Tribuna. "Also the relatives and intimate friends of Cardinal Ferata say the origin of his illness was due to excessive work in his attempt to master the situation and cooperate with the Pope in trying to end the conflict. Thus the illustrious victims of the war, among the noncombatants, number already a pope, a king, and a cardinal, the papal secretary of state.

SOUTHERN CUTS SALARIES.

Officers Receiving Over $2,500 per Annum to Receive Decrease.

Washington, D. C. Oct. 11—In view of the curtailment of service made necessary by the current depression of business and the consequent reduction of the opportunity of many hundred of employees to earn the wages to which they have been accustomed, President Fairfax Harrison of Southern Railway Company, has deemed that it is only fair that the officers of the Company should also share the sacrifice.

He has accordingly reduced his own salary twenty per cent, and has asked all the other officers receiving salaries in excess of twenty five hundred dollars per annum to accept temporary reductions on a descending scale, proportioned to the amount of their salaries, so as to distribute the personal sacrifice equitably. Under the plan adopted the pay of those receiving salaries of as much as twenty seven hundred dollars will be reduced two per cent. The officers affected have all accepted the situation with loyal appreciation of the necessity of a spirit of mutual sacrifice. While the actual saving to the Company on this account is relatively small, the principle of common interest of all those who draw their livelihood from Southern Railway Company has been the controlling motive.

Following this action, the Board of Directors has reduced the dividend of the preferred stockholders, many of whom are women dependent upon this income, from five to four and one half per cent, although it was fully earned before the present tendency of business was apparent, and has declared it payable not in cash but in deferred scrip so that all interests in the property may participate in the retrenchment.

PREPARING FOR A TITANIC CONFLICT

OSTEND KAISER'S AIM.

Reinforcements for Allies Arrive from England—Beieved to be Enough to Check Germans.

Paris, Oct., 12—Today's situation in northern France and Belgium is potent with possibilities. Two great German movements are known to be under way. One powerful force is hurrying on Ostend bent on striking the seaport before the allies can throw sufficient re-enforcements in to stop the advance.

The other move is renewal of the German offensive throughout the center of the battle front. The invaders are hurrying their siege guns from Antwerp to hammer down the forts of Verdun that have aided so materially in the check to the advance into France.

Just what steps have been taken to meet the new issues by the French staff is not known officially. While an air of expectancy that borders on optimism is prevalent in military circles, nothing but the most laconic statements are being given out officially.

From reliable authority it is learned that strong re-enforcements have reached Ostend from England, and it is believed the force now centered there is powerful enough.

In the official Bordeaux announcements it is stated that all the attacks of the Germans have been rapulsed, that cavalry engagements of almost unheard of magnitude have been waging, and that the allies hold their positions at all points along the battle line.

Military experts here declare that French-Belgian-England forces are being massed in overwhelming numbers for a titanic assault on the extreme northwestern wing of the German army. Ostend is believed to be the new thorn in the German side.

An option has been secured on the property, but it expires November 1. Funds sufficient to begin work on the school buildings have already been obtained, and when the site is secured work will be started to have the institution ready for opening next fall.

Henry Morton Murdered by John Edmunds, Who is Lodged In Prince Edward Jail.

Farmville, Va. Oct. 12—John Edmunds, colored, was arrested Saturday afternoon, after an all-day search in the upper part of Prince Edward County for the murder of Henry Morton, a well-known young man of Charlotte County. Morton and a relative had attended a circus in Farmville Friday and were late leaving town. When about fifteen miles away they overtook a negro, Joe Lewis and during a conversation between the two John Edmunds, ran up and with an oath, shot Morton down. There were several eyewitnesses to the killing. Edmunds, when arrested near his home, made a confession, but gave no reason for the deed. BOMBS DROPED IN PARIS

Three Persons Killed and Twenty Wounded Yesterday.

Paris, Oct. 12—Twenty bombs were hurled upon Paris by German aviators yesterday killing three persons wounding twenty, and causing considerable damage to property.

One of the bombs fell near the Northern Railway terminal and another in the Rue St. Lazare. The mortal effect of the bombs was felt in the Faubourg St. Antoine, where the bombs struck in a crowd returning from church. In the Rue Lafayette and at other points where the bombs struck the material damage was slight.

The Notre Dame Cathedral was struck and slightly damaged. A bomb struck the roof of the north transept at the point where it meets the roof of the nave. The guardians of the church would permit no one to see the spot, but it is said a large hole has been made in the parapet and roofing as a pinnacle is broken away while many bullets and fragments of shells are embedded in surrounding material.

One bomb fell just behind the cathedral, close to the residence of the Archbishop of Paris. All told four bombs were thrown in the vincinity of Notre Dame.

All places struck were within a circle in which is the heart of the city. The most central place of all was the vicinity of the Bourse. Here a bomb set fire to a house.

One projectile fell in the Palace de La Republique, near the barracks of the Republican guard; another in the Rue du Rocher, near the Gare Saint-Lazare, and a third struck the coal depot near the Gare du Nord.

Another fell in the Square Voisin.

ITALY BRINGING HER TROOPS HOME

Believed to be Making Preparations to Enter European War.

HAS OVER 500,000 MEN.

Will Probably Take Possession of Trieste and Trient—Ships Sail for Tripoli and Cyrenaica.

Paris, Oct., 12—A Naples dispatch says that twenty Italian transport ships, heavily escorted by an Italian naval fleet, sailed today to bring the Italian troops now in Tripoli and Cyrenaica. Their place will be taken by a volunteer corps just formed in Italy.

Although the return of troops from Lybia is ostensibly due to the fact that term of enlistment has expired, the movement is universally accepted in Italy as another one of the steady preparations that are being made by the Italian government for eventual participation in the present war.

Should Italy take possession of Trieste and Trient, as it is confidently expected she will do, if she joins with the allies, she will thus have 100,000 more trained soldiers than otherwise, the troops being brought back from Tripoli being still subject to military duty under a general moblization.

Interesting News Notes About People of Alexandria—Happenings in Society.

Mrs. Charles B. Marshall was the hostess Friday evening of the Thomas Marshall Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at her summer home, "Good View," on the Potomac. The evening was a most delightful one in every particular, and the business meeting was a success. Dinner was served in true old Virginia style, the table being tastefully arranged with a center piece of scarlet sage. The favors, the hand work of the hotess, were Irish crocheted baskets tied with red ribbon and filled with red mints. A toast was offered by the regent, and responded to by the officers. The meeting was presided over by the regent, Miss Margaret V. McCabe and began with a blessing offered by the chaplain, Mrs. J. B. Padgett. The treasurer, Mrs. Benedict Wheatley, reported so favorably that $10 was voted as a contribution to the Red Cross fund. The historian, Mrs. George E. Warfield, had a splendid program mapped out for the winter's work and much interest was displayed in arranging for a theatre benefit and a reception to Mrs. William Cumming Story, the president general. Committees were appointed for the various enterprises—Mrs. Henry L. Taylor, vice regent, Mrs. Catherine C. Farrar registrar; Mrs. Sadie Fous, recording secretary; and Miss Hortense Hersom, corresponding secretary. All gave brilliant reports. Mrs. Lizzie Warfield, Mrs. Anna B. Yoakam, Mrs. Jessie B. At 10 o'clock the couples fled out to the dining room where the spacious table laden with ices, fruits, and bon bons was found. In the center of the table was a large crystal bowl filled with crimson flowers and at the head in front of the popular hostess was placed the birthday cake lighted by fifteen scarlet candles. The extinguishing of the candles named for the youths present was an occasion of merriment. After supper dancing continued until eleven.

Geneva, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Dr. William R. Brooks, director of Smith Observatory and professor of astronomy at Hobart College, said today that Delavan's comet can now well be seen with the naked eye in the western evening sky.

It is 10 degrees below the last star in the handle of the "Big Dipper" and moving toward the bright star, Arcturus, above which the comet will pass on October 26.

According to Clark, he received a whitecap letter advising him that if he was in the neighborhood on Saturday night he would be dealt with At 11 o'clock that night he heard a knock at his door. When he refused to open it, the visitors broke in. Clark opened fire on the intruders with a shot gun.

ELOPEMENT IN AMHERST.

Married Man and Married Woman Being Sought.

Lynchburg, Va. Oct. 12—Somewhere in Amherst county, Robert Fulcher, a married man, and Mrs. J A. Owen, of Lynchburg, are said to be in hiding, Officer O'Bryant and Detective Irvin, with a small posse have scouted the woods for them but they were unable to catch them

Last week according to the police, Robert Fulcher went to the home of Owen in Lynchburg, and took away Owen's wife. While Fulcher and Mrs. Owen were at Eighth and Taylor st. J. A. Owen overtook them and made an effort to take his wife home.

Fulcher attacked Owen and beat his face until it was a mass of bleeding cuts and bruises. Owen was beaten until he was semi-conscious, but he managed to get back home. He was taken to Police Justice Martin, who issued a warrant for the arrest of Fulcher upon the oath of Owen.

Fulcher's wife and Mrs. Owen's mother went in search of them Monday and found them in the old brick magazine in a ravine about one mile below the Amherst bridge on James river. The woman tried to make the man and girl return home, but when Mrs. Fulcher went to call the police, Fulcher and Mrs. Owen ran off in the woods. The police arrived later and tracked them through the woods, but they lost the trail and were unable to arrest them.

Owen told the police Sunday that he wanted his wife back and for them to use every effort to get her. She is an eighteen-year-old girl, while Fulcher is a man of middle age.

FIVE GIRLS ACCUSE HIM.

Sicilian, Seized in His Room, May Have to Face Several More Charges of Assault.

Baltimore, Oct. 12.—Accused of maltreating five little girls between the ages of 9 and 12, Joseph Celvesta, 34 years old, a Sicilian, with an room at 204 Albemarle street, was arrested yesterday morning, after an all-night hunt.

Celvesta attempted to escape from his room on the second floor, but the police forced the door and seized him.

He is accused of assaulting Ida Zeikowitz, Elizabeth Goldberg, Fannie Freelander, Hattie Rosenkoff, and Rose Glazer. The alleged assaults, according to the police, occurred in August and September.

It is likely that two more charges will be entered against the Sicilian.

Several days ago the police learned that one of the girls concerned was seriously ill.

The Sicilian was sullen and refused information about himself. It is said he came to this city six months ago from near Philadelphia. Two months ago the police of the Eastern district received information that a man answering Celvesta's description was going about the neighborhood of Stiles and Exeter streets giving candy to children. At that time a trap was laid for him, but he was not caught.

BOULDERS HIT TRAIN.

Three Killed And Fourteen Injured When a Giant Rock Crashes Into Day Coach.

Grand Junction, Colo., Oct. 12.—Three persons were killed and 14 injured, several seriously, when a 20-ton boulder, falling from a precipice, crashed into a day coach and smoker of a Denver and Rio Grande passenger train No. 3, 18 miles east of this city yesterday.

The train was running at high speed when a rock struck the coupling between the tender and the smoking car, parting the train. Before the automatic air brakes had brought the rear section to a stop, a huge boulder crashed on the smoking car and the day coach, shattering the roofs and crumpling the steel sides. Twenty passengers in the two cars escaped injury.

At the point where the wreck occurred the tracks closely parallel the Grand River, the cliffs rising sheer above the river bank. Much of the wreckage of the two cars was precipitated into the swift mountain stream.

PERSONALITIES IN THE HOUSE.

Heflin, During Discussion of Woman Suffrage Amendment, Calls Mann a Liar.

Bitter personalities were exchanged in the House yesterday between Representative Mann, minority leader, and Representative Heflin, of Alabama, during discussion of a woman suffrage amendment offered by Mr. Mann, to the Philippine Independence bill. In the heat of debate Mr. Heflin called Mr. Mann a liar, and the latter charged that the Alabama member had made a speech against suffrage which was an insult to womanhood.

After strenuous debate, which for a moment seemed to threaten a physical encounter, a portion of Representative Mann's remarks was ordered expunged from the record by a vote of 152 to 66. The matter ordered expunged was a remark made by the minority leader when Representative Heflin recalled a speech Mr. Mann made two years ago at the time of the suffrage parade in Washington when a girl was insulted. Mr. Heflin declared Mr. Mann had insisted the young woman should have remained at home.

"I though it was better for the young girl to be at home than in that parade," said Mr. Mann in reply, "for fear the gentleman from Alabama should have seen her. He would have been sure to insult her."

Uproar followed this remark by the minority leader, Representative Jones, of Virginia, joining with Representative Heflin in demanding accurate recording of the statement.

"I repudiate that statement," said Mr. Heflin, excitedly. "It is that of a man unworthy of a seat on this floor The statement is without foundation, and unjustified from any source."

After the remark had been expunged from the record, debate ensued on the Mann amendment which would provide suffrage for women in the Philippines, and in this a colloquy occurred between the Illinois and Alabama members, during which Representative Heflin declared.

The suffrage amendment was defeated, 84 to 58.

PRICE MAINTENANCE.

Its Necessity to Aid Consumer.

Many big industries engaged in national trade have often in the past done openly what the small concerns in their limited fields have done secretly—varied prices according to the degree of competition at different times and places. Their object has been to secure the highest price to be had, irrespective of whether the buyer was held up or not.

The principle of selling goods at a close margin at one place to meet or to kill competition, and charging a high price, to make up for it, where little or no competition exists, is economically wrong and unfair to the buyer. Every article offered for sale should have a uniform price plainly marked upon it.

Manufacturers will then have to see that the price of their goods is a reasonable one, so they will sell, and at the same time they will provide enough profit to pay the jobber and dealer fairly for handling the goods at a uniform price. This will inspire confidence in the consumer, because he will know the price can not be cut and must, therefore, be a reasonable one to permit the goods to sell. He will buy such goods in preference to a small selling article sold at exaggerated profits.

Everybody will benefit from price maintenance in this way. It will protect the manufacturer who has built up well-known brands, also the newcomer who is seeking to do so. Distributors will be protected in handling it at a fair profit, and they will not be forced, through fear of cut-throat competition, to build up their own private brands at much expense.

When you buy Certain-teed you have our real guarantee that it will last at least five years for 1-ply, ten years for 2-ply and fifteen years for 3-ply, and this guarantee is backed by the world's largest roofing mills.

There is a dealer in your city or town who handles Certain-teed products. He will be glad to give you information and prices.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

YESTERDAY'S PARADE.

The parade of the scholars and teachers of Sunday schools of Alexandria yesterday afternoon was all that had been anticipated. Over two thousand were in the turnout, and the celebration was witnessed by most of the people of the city.

The program of exercises did not prove tedious to the little folks who formed the great majority of those in line, and everything connected with the affair was carried out in a satisfactory manner.

GERMANS CAPTURE CITY OF ANTWERP.

Another Belgian city—a great seaport—has been partially demolished by German shells and Antwerp is now in the hands of the Kaiser. The beautiful Cathedral of Notre Dame has been seriously damaged, with many other buildings the pride of the Belgians and which have proven so interesting to tourists during centuries. The army of defenders escaped, as did most of the inhabitants, and the invaders have accomplished but little in the way of terminating a war which has become a tremendous drain upon the Fatherland. The city is said to be unfit for a strategic point, and the Germans, after the fearful cost, find that the city is then as the apples of Sodom. The brave Belgians will fight in other fields and are determined to battle for their homes in the face of the terrible odds which are against them.

It is said that the larger guns now use by the invaders cost five thousand dollars a shot, and apart from the great sacrifice of life they are piling up a tremendous debt to be paid by another generation.

In contrast to the procedures of the Kaiser in the little kingdom of Belgium it is noted that the French are by far more humane in their operations. Two of their battleships had the city of Ragusa, Austria, at their mercy, but they merely demolished the lighthouses and cut cables.

UNCONVENTIONAL LANGUAGE.

Words used in a colloquy between Representatives Mann and Heflin in the House of Representatives Saturday were of nature not often heard in Congress in these days. The language which it is alleged they used toward each other was of a nature not calculated to impart dignity to the positions they hold. About the time the Civil War was breaking out, when Messrs. Benton, Foote, Pryor, "Bowie Knife" Potter and others figured in the national legislature, such words would have meant more than merely expunging them from the record.

It is pleasant to realize that there are many long intervals between the use of personalities in Congress, and the people's representatives in this day seldom utter any thing in debate which is likely to bring resentment.

Angry words are long remembered and people who are victims of cruel shafts nurse them a long time. A debate between Roscoe Conkling and James G. Blaine, in the house many years ago cost the latter the Presidency.

WAGES CUT AT THE TOP.

While it is to be sincerely regretted that the Southern Railway has found it necessary to retrench by commencing the reduction in salaries, the start was made in the right direction by first cutting down the salaries of the high officials. There can be no doubt but that the man receiving over $2,500 per year is better able to stand a decrease in his income than the man receiving $1,200. With the former, in most cases, it will mean the cutting off of some of the luxuries while with the latter actual necessities must be eliminated. While the business situation along the line of the Southern is said to be depressing there are indications of improved conditions which will obviate any further reductions.

EYES OF NATION ON VIRGINIA.

While there is no doubt of the overwhelming victory of the Democratic candidates in the congressional election to be held in Virginia in November, the Republicans are making a strenuous effort to reduce the majorities in order to give a black-eye to the Wilson administration. Not in many years have they shown such activity in this district and money seems to be most plentiful. Republican minor politicians are enjoying a wave of prosperity such as they have not had in many moons.

The efforts of the Republicans should encourage every Democrat in the state to additional efforts to give the Democratic nominees their unanimous support. The Wilson wave of 1912 gave the Democrats a majority of 133 in the House of Representatives. Such a majority under ordinary conditions would have been too large for party comfort and cooperation but the exceptional spirit which it brought to the work before it has accomplished great results.

As stated above while there is nothing in the political situation to create any alarm, it is important that neither Democratic apathy nor overconfidence should allow the Republicans to make such inroads upon the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives as will produce a wrong impression as to public sentiment. The general result will be interpreted as an indorsement or a criticism of the policies of the Administration, rather than of individual Congressmen, and a sweeping reduction of the Democratic majority might have far-reaching effects not simply on the party but on the future of the country.

A TWICE-TOLD TALE
One of Interest to Our Readers

Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of an Alexandria man is confirmed after several years.

J. T. Langley, 513 Queen street, Alexandria, says: "I had a bad back and I think the trouble was caused by a strain. I could not stoop and when I got up in the morning, I could hardly move. I noticed sediment in the kidney secretions. The many good reports I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills led me to get a box at Leadbeater & Son's Drug Store. They fixed me up in fine shape. During the past few years since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney complaint, I have had no trouble. I confirm the praise I have previously given this remedy."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Langley had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

D. D. D. In Hospitals; Standard Skin Cure

How many hospital patients, suffering the frightful itch, the raw scorching pain of skin disease, have been soothed to sleep by a soothing fluid washed in by the nurse's hands?

That fluid is the famous D. D. D. prescription for eczema.

THE SUPERVISING NURSE of one of our prominent Catholic institutions (name of nurse and institute on application), writes regarding a patient: "The disease had eaten her eyebrows away. Her nose and lips had become disfigured. Since the use of D. D. D. her eyebrows are growing, her nose and face have assumed their natural expression."

How many eczema sufferers are paying their doctors for regular treatment and are being treated with this same soothing, healing fluid?

DR. GEO. T. RICHARDSON frankly writes "D. D. D. is superior to anything I have ever found. Soft and soothing, yet a powerful agent."

To do the work, D. D. D. Prescription must be applied according to directions given in the pamphlet around every bottle. Follow these directions—and see!

And it certainly takes away the itch at once—the moment the liquid is applied. The skin is soothed—chilled—so thoroughly refreshed—delightfully cooled.

All druggists of standing have the famous specific as well as the efficient D. D. D. Skin Soap.

But we are so confident of the merits of this prescription that we will refund the purchase price of the first full size bottle if it fails to reach your case. You alone are to judge.

PUBLICITY

Sure Cure for Corporate Diseases.

The startling disclosures of corporate mismanagement in the last ten years have brought about a general feeling that publicity of corporation affairs is both necessary and desirable for the future well-being of all corporations. This publicity may be affected in many ways and should give the public as well as the stockholders such information as will eliminate all possible chance for corruption and mismanagement.

In the past, managers of some corporations have operated their business in a more or less arrogant fashion, persistently refusing to make their acts known to the public or even to their stockholders. In most instances if these operations had been made public at the time, many of the ills from which they are now suffering would not have occurred, and millions of dollars of investment would have been saved.

The effect of corporate mismanagement is greatly magnified, however, when its discovery comes too late by governmental investigation. Generally speaking, if the facts were voluntarily made public, or if they were made known through established methods of publicity, in the regular course of business, the mismanagement of the corporation would never occur or it could be remedied immediately and the bad effect of it would be comparatively small.

And so it is with many houses of business—in the field of commerce and manufacture. They are afraid of publicity—afraid to have their factories examined and to let purchasers verify statements or facts concerning the goods. The only conclusion to be reached in such case is that the manufacturer has something to conceal, which, if discovered, would not bear out his assertions.

Publicity in relation to all business matters is the best cure for their evils, just as light and air kill the germs of disease.

There are many times when one man questions another's actions and motives. Men act differently under different circumstances. The question is, what would you do right now if you had a severe cold? Could you do better than to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended by people who have used it for years and know its value Mrs. O. E. Sargent, Peru, Ind., says "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is worth its weight in gold and I take pleasure in recommending it." For sale by all dealers.

AN UNLUCKY BRIG.

Once Abandoned, the Marie Celeste Came to a Bad End.

There are few people who have not heard of the case of the American brig Marie Celeste, which in 1872 was inexplicably abandoned in calm weather off the Azores by a crew never after heard from. Few, however, know that it ended its career many years later at the hands of the barrator.

On its last voyage it cleared from Boston for Port au Prince, Haiti, ostensibly with a cargo of valuable general merchandise, insured for $30,000. When within a few miles of its destination it went ashore near Miragoane and became a total wreck. The captain, Parker, promptly sold the cargo, sight unseen, to American Consul Mitchell for $500. Mitchell saved it at some trouble, but lived to wish he hadn't.

When the underwriters' agent arrived on the scene to investigate, he found several funny things about the cargo. One case shipped as cutlery and insured for $1,000 contained dog collars worth $50. Barrels supposed to contain expensive liquors were full of worthless dregs, a consignment of salt fish insured for $5,000 was rotten, and other articles mentioned in the bill of lading proved to be in keeping.

Consul Mitchell, not only duped, but outlawed, stood not on the order of his going, but cleared out for tall timber. The captain of the brig was tried in the United States district court in Boston, convicted and sentenced to a long term in prison, where he died three months later.—David A. Wasson in Outing Magazine.

PRIDE OF THE UGLY CLUB.

He Was the Prize Member of an Old New York Organization.

UGLY CLUB.

Ugly brothers, hither fly.
With you bring the varying eye—
Bring here cock eyes and eyes askance
That cannot pass one tender glance.
Bring goggle eyes and piercers, too;
Eyes green, white, red, black and blue.
Bring with you the eagle's sight
To see your heart and keep it right.
But bring shortsighted eyes to spy
The mote that's in your brother's eye.

The members of the Ugly club are directed to attend a special meeting at Ugly hall, 4 Wall street, on Thursday evening, the 12th inst., at 7 o'clock, to take into consideration the propriety of bestowing some suitable mark of distinction on a member who lately while viewing himself in the secretary's ugly mirror was so much pleased with his own ugly phiz that he involuntarily let fall the glass, which was dashed to pieces, and exclaimed, "I shall yet be president of the club!" The astonishing fortitude of this ugly member, in the frequent and public acknowledgment of his natural deformities, deserves the highest commendation.

The members are requested to be punctual in their attendance, as the new members elected at the last meeting and six of the ugly beauties are expected to appear.

The propriety of admitting ladies into the club will be discussed.

By order of His Ugliness.

A Round Trip.

The attorney for a street railroad company in a Kentucky town was examining a skinny sixteen-year-old negro boy who had sued for injuries ostensibly incurred in a collision on the highway.

"You say," he asked, "that when this street car hit that wagon you were riding on the front seat of the wagon?"

"Dat's what I said," answered the little darky.

"And you say the force of the blow knocked you up in the air?"

"Yas, suh—'way up in de air."

"Well, how long did you stay up there?" demanded the attorney.

"Not no longer dan it tuck me to git down!" answered the truthful complainant promptly.—Saturday Evening Post.

Rays From a Searchlight.

The paths traversed by rays from a searchlight depend on the form of curvature of the mirror. If flat, the paths of reflected rays would be the same as those of the rays received; if the arc of a circle, the rays will be reflected to one bright focus. To have a band of parallel rays leave the mirror it must be the arc of a parabola. Then straight rays will be reflected all parallel to each other. In air, the intensity of this beam of light would diminish, but in absolute vacuum would be as intense at any distance.—New York American.

ATE AND WAS SAD

Yet It Was a Dish For Which He Had Yearned For Years.

A TRAGEDY IN GASTRONOMY.

Bouillabaisse as Sung by Thackeray and as Served in a Famous Marseilles Resort Proved Very Different Propositions to an English Epicure.

We all know that famous poem of Thackeray's which begins,

A street there is in Paris famous
For which no rime our language yields, and goes on to tell of the tavern where the genial Titmarsh in the days when he was a Paris correspondent "ate and drank the bouillabaisse."

As a result of that delightful poem tens of thousands of Englishmen have yearned to eat bouillabaisse. Thackeray puts it so beautifully! The steaming dish of stewed fish that he conjures up in his lines—how appetizing it seems! I know that it was quite early in my teens when I first read that poem, and from that moment there was formed in my mind a firm resolve to eat some day of bouillabaisse.

My opportunity came not long ago when I visited Marseilles. It was nearly half past 9 when I sat down in the dining room of the hotel.

"There is no bouillabaisse on the menu," I said severely to the maitre d'hotel. "I have come to Marseilles specially to eat it." He replied that it was not a specialty of the house, but that it could always be prepared. How long would it take? Twenty-five minutes, perhaps a little longer. "But I think monsieur would find it rather heavy at such a late hour."

He was not encouraging, this maitre d'hotel. I did not accept for a moment his suggestion that bouillabaisse was too heavy a dish for half past 9 at night. Thackeray had not talked about heaviness. But twenty-five minutes! I ordered an omelet.

At midnight, walking down the famous Cannebiere, back to the hotel, I was hailed by a familiar voice. It was that of a friend whom I had not seen for a long time. Gratefully I grasped his hand and told him that I intended to eat bouillabaisse as soon as possible. And my respect for him was considerably enhanced when he told me that he had eaten some that very afternoon an hour after his arrival in Marseilles. Here was the true spirit, and I related to him, with some bitterness, my experience with the maitre d'hotel. "Well, it is rather heavy stuff," he said. But I brushed this aside, and we arranged to meet at lunch on the morrow, when I should have the best that Marseilles could give me.

There are, as everybody knows, two places at Marseilles for bouillabaisse—Pasenl's and Basso's, on the Vieux Port. We decided on Basso's.

"Bouillabaisse," I said laconically. I paid no attention to what my friend ordered. No other dish interested me. But in a minute or so a curious looking mess was set down before him.

"What's that stuff you're going to eat?" I asked.

"That's bouillabaisse," he said, "but it's not mine."

I started. This bouillabaisse, this curious looking stuff, with indigestible looking lumps of fish floating in a bilious and oily saffron liquid! I know not what I had expected bouillabaisse to be, but it certainly was not this. There was a piece of fish which I recognized as eel, and I loathe eels. The broad tail of another and unknown fish stuck up out of the opaque liquid. But it was the yellow liquid itself which repelled. It shouted billousness, and the smell of saffron that arose with the steam made me feel ill. Oh, Thackeray!

I peeked at the eel—or it may have been a lamprey—explored the various other fish, tasted gingerly of the thick saffron liquid on one of the pieces of toast that floated in it. But mine was no palate for bouillabaisse. I made the waiter take the mess away and bring lamb cutlets.

But I had tasted of bouillabaisse and was not to forget it. All day long the terrible taste of saffron remained with me. Nothing would shift it; not Marseilles tea, nor many golden bocks, nor dinner. In fact, the bouillabaisse of lunch spoiled the dinner. And at midnight, in a cafe on the Cannebiere, my friend confided a secret to me. "When we fell in with each other just twenty-four hours ago," he said, "I was suffering just as you are now. The horrible taste of saffron had remained obstinately with me ever since lunch and has not quite gone even yet. But you told me you had come to Marseilles to eat bouillabaisse, and I knew nothing I could say would dissuade you. But no doubt the bitterness of this moment will fade away, and as time passes you will tell your friends in England how excellent is the real bouillabaisse if only you have it in Marseilles."

"Never! I would die first!" I exclaimed firmly.—London Standard.

Africa's Pygmy Antelopes.

The pygmy antelope of the Gold Coast of Africa is the smallest of cud chewing animals. It stands about ten inches high at the withers—that is, about as high as a fox terrier. The male has minute horns that run straight back in the line of the forehead. The pygmy antelope was described in 1705 by the Dutch traveler Bosman, who, in his "Description of Guinea," says that it is called the "king of the harts" by the natives. By English writers it is often called the "royal antelope."

Do one thing at a time and the big things first.—Lincoln.

LOCAL TEAM IS DEFEATED.

High School Eleven Plays Randolph-Macon Academy.

In an interesting foot ball game at Front Royal, Va., Saturday, the Alexandria High School team was defeated by Randolph-Macon Academy. The score was 16 to 7. Forward passes were the feature of the game, every touchdown having been made by its use.

The local team played very hard against Randolph-Macon, but were unable to overcome the excellent and varied attack put up by the latter.

The second High School team is playing the Hartford Athletic Club at Washington this afternoon. Fourteen men were taken.

FORTS ARE OBSOLETE

Fall of Antwerp Gives Lesson to Military Authorities.

Bordeaux, Oct., 12—The occupation of Antwerp was discussed by government officials but nevertheless the news of the triumph of the Germans caused a painful impression.

It has long been realized that the German 42-centimeter guns render impossible the successful defense of any existing fort. Those at Antwerp, it is pointed out, held out long enough to enable the Belgian army to evacuate the city.

The best military opinion considers the event of no stategic importance, it is stated. It releases the German besieging force, but as this body numbers fewer than 100,000 men, it is believed that its addition will have little influence upon the great battle line in northern France.

The military consequences of the fall of Antwerp are not so great as the lesson to be learned therefrom of the futility of permanent fortifications. This opinion is expressed by Lieutenant Colonel Rousset, who says that it will be necessary to abandon entirely this sort of defense and replace it with rude works of easy and quick construction, which can be placed anywhere, according to the need of the hour.

Then, he says, shells, because of the absence of resistance, will cause only small damage. Never, he asserts, has a country been saved by its fortifications, while there are those whose fortresses have been their ruin.
